

South32 is committed to the development of its host communities in areas it operates. Skills development is one of the focus areas in which we aim to contribute to enable our host communities to access employment opportunities or start their own small businesses. In addition to our bursary scheme targeted at Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths (STEM), we are proud to be introducing a new Bursary Scheme for our communities for non-STEM subjects. The bursaries are aimed at increasing the skills in the John Taolo Gaetsewe (JTG) District to be used beyond the mining sector and contribute to the diversification of the local economy. Successful candidates will be sponsored to study and obtain qualifications of their choice.
